Inspiring suites

They say that small is beautiful and we couldn't agree more. Often overlooked, the cloakroom can be a wise investment by adding some designer style. Think slimline basins, modular cabinets and light reflecting mirrors to see a world of difference.

Small ensuites

Don't let a compact ensuite, limit your creativity. If the room is narrow think shower, not bath and pick a space saving enclosure for the most awkward of spaces. If you want to create more space, consider a wall hung toilet. Their contemporary look streamline even the smallest of spaces.

Cloakrooms

Small space, big impact

Adding a downstairs bathroom is a great way to add value to your home as it makes life easier for children and those less mobile.

But just because it's small, doesn't mean it can't make an impact and as it'll see more visitors than your main WC, it's worth investing some effort in. Small spaces, like under the stairs, are perfect sites for cloakrooms, these interesting footprints can be great fun to design. We'll help you unleash your small space creativity, and get the most from every square inch.

Neat ideas for cloakrooms

Reflect on this

Mirrors are great for reflecting light and making small spaces feel bigger.

Sinks that suit

As with any small-space cloakroom, finding sanitaryware and furniture that suits the area, is the trick. Compact cloakroom basins are ideal for small spaces, and the good news is, with our range you'll be spoilt for choice.

You're getting warmer

If you want big heat in a small package, slimline radiators are a practically perfect solution.

Think off the wall

Don't forget, walls are great for space-saving. Hang fittings from them and go for a wall-hung toilet – they sit flush to the wall without the need for a bulky cistern or base, creating the impression of more room.

Helpful hint:

In general, you only need around 3 feet x 5 feet of space to make your cloakroom suite a workable space. The most popular area for people to choose is under the stairs - previously wasted space. Here it is ideally positioned for guest access because it is off the main entrance area in your home. If lack of plumbing is an issue, you could consider using a macerator pump to convert those hard to plumb locations.

Neat ideas for small ensuites

Subtle and slender

Instead of using a floorstanding vanity unit, why not look at a wall hung one instead. We have a wide range of wall hung compact vanity units to give you maximum storage capacity without compromising on space.

Get reflective

Mirrored cabinets help give your room a 'showroom spotless' look. These clever cabinets create the illusion of space whilst keeping all your essentials out of sight, and with a host of added luxury features it's easy to see why they're so popular in modern bathrooms.

Think bi-literally

Bifold doors are a great solution for spacious enclosures. Their doors neatly fold in on themselves, like a concertina, so they don't overlap with nearby areas.

Perfect proportions

Square shower trays are typically more compact in size, which makes for ideal space-saving in smaller spaces such as guest bathrooms and ensuites.

Free the floor

We know bathroom space can sometimes be a problem. We have a fantastic range of slimline and short projection toilets just waiting to make your dream bathroom a reality. If you're struggling for floor space in a small bathroom, a space-saving toilet could be the solution you need to make the most of your layout.

Design tips:

Take time choosing furniture and pick pieces that suit your space, instead of overpowering it.

Keep small spaces well ventilated with an extractor fan. We have a wide range to choose from and many come with additional features.

Neat ideas for small bathrooms

Soak and shower

Showerbaths provide you with the best of both worlds when it comes to choosing between baths and showers. They have a large width at one end allowing you to take a shower in comfort whilst at the same time allowing you the luxury of a relaxing soak at the end of the day.

Welcoming warmth

These stylish heaters are practical too, taking the chill off your space and reducing damp air, sometimes caused by wet towels.

Neat ideas

Mix and match styles to create a perfect, and practical, bathroom with plenty of storage to please tidy minds. Our huge range is also available in a slimline depth – so even small spaces can stay spick and span.

Helpful hint:

For smaller rooms, choose wisely to create a feeling of space. All-white fittings, with glossy white walls and tiled flooring will achieve a light and airy feeling in the bathroom. Similarly, light oak fittings can add a traditional touch and give a feeling of open space in a tight space.

Showered with solutions

When choosing a shower for your bathroom, we have a wide range for you to consider depending on your need and usage. From stylish concealed valve kits to the latest intelligent digital showers, we've got the products for you.

Neat ideas for large bathrooms

Freestanding sophistication

If you like classic styling you'll love a freestanding bath. They bring sophistication to any bathroom, and turn an end-of-day bath into a high-end spa experience. Not only are they practical but they deliver an undeniable 'wow' factor.

Radical radiators

Radiators work better than towel warmers combining both functionality and style. A designer bathroom radiator is guaranteed to increase the ambience of your room and make those early weekday mornings that little bit easier.

No smoke, just mirrors

Add style to a bathroom without breaking the bank. Our huge range of mirrors will give you plenty of inspiration, like our contemporary mirrors with clever features such as LED lighting and steam-free technology.

Double luxury

Larger bathrooms love double basins. They add an element of personal luxury and elegance, plus are perfect for busy families, enabling more than one person to use the basin at once. Double basin vanity units deliver lots of storage too.

Showered with technology

Stay in control with a digital shower. Like a mixer, they take water from both feeds but digital showers give you precise, touch-button control to create your ideal temperature. Some come with features like 'warm-up mode' and can even be controlled by your smart phone.

Installation tips

When buying a toilet for your bathroom suite, you will need more than just the toilet itself. Many toilets require you to purchase the seat separately and, if you are looking to mount it onto the wall, you will need a wall frame to keep it totally secure. Also, your toilet must be paired with a cistern and if not included in the purchase, you will need to make sure you get the right one.

The art of finding furniture

Selecting the right furniture isn't just a great way to build in handy storage, it's also the key to creating a harmonious style to your bathroom. If you're not sure where to start, have a chat with our experts – they'll talk you through the latest designs, and help find what works best for you and your amazing space.

Get the look:

Find our full range of furniture options from p94

Furniture fundamentals

Don't rush into finding your furniture style. Think about the overall look you want, and if it works with your accessories.

Have a plumber fit any furniture involving basins or toilets to avoid accidental damage.

Remember that countertop basins need to be mounted on a vanity unit or work surface.

Helpful hints:

All our units include elegant soft-closing door mechanisms which help reduce everyday wear and tear.

Vanity units and work surfaces are great places to hide unsightly plumbing.

Countertop basins with floor-standing vanity units remove the need for wall mounting.

Mirror and wall-hung cabinets are great for providing maximum storage in the minimum of space.

Utilise awkward and unused spaces with built-in bathroom furniture.

1 Furniture fit to inspire

Why fitted?

Fitted furniture is floor standing and gives a wider range of storage options that can be combined with wall units and cabinets to give a comprehensive storage solution.

Why modular?

Modular furniture allows the flexibility to place freestanding or wall hung pieces anywhere in the bathroom without the restrictions of fitted furniture.

Things to consider for fitted furniture:

Size and positioning?

If you're wondering where to start, try measuring up and planning your furniture layout first. Create a floorplan to see where things fit, including space for things like door openings. Where space is limited, consider bathroom cabinets and space-saving solutions such as a combination of toilet and basin units, or wall-mounted cabinets.

What are your storage needs?

Towels, toilet rolls and toiletries are some of the storage basics, but you may want to factor in cleaning products, laundry and linen too. Just try and stay practical about what storage you can fit in your room.

Who's using the bathroom?

From 'get in and goers' to 'take their timers', everyone's usage is different, so consider activities like shaving, playing in the bath and having a good old soak, when considering items that need storage.

Baths

Big ideas in bathing

The bath is more than a functional piece of furniture, it's now one of the most decorative and fundamental elements of the modern bathroom. If you're wondering how to find the right bath, start with the shape of your bathroom.

Larger rooms give you the luxury of designing any layout you want, whereas small bathrooms will focus your thinking. There's still a huge variety of designs to fit into compact spaces including many designer styles too. Whatever the space, think bath.

Here are some useful things to know about acrylic and steel baths

Acrylic

- > Most popular bath material throughout the UK
- > Easy to transport and install thanks to its lightweight properties
- > Good heat retention
- > Excellent value for money and cost-effective
- > Warmer (than steel) to the touch
- > Non-porous: easy to clean and remove scratches

Steel

- > Commonly used throughout the UK
- > Stronger and more durable than acrylic
- > Resilient and almost impossible to scratch
- > Whilst cold to the touch it's a great heat conductor
- > Its chemical and UV light resistant properties prevent discolouring
- > As a 100% recyclable material, steel is an eco-friendly choice

Which bath is best for you?

Single ended baths

This simple, rectangular bath is typical of the style found in many homes today. With the taps installed at one end, this style provides a single backrest for comfort. As a popular design, they come in numerous sizes for a wide variety of bathroom spaces.

p125-127

p128-129

Double ended baths

This style usually has a centrally-mounted taps, leaving both ends free for use as backrests, or providing a generous bathing space. These baths are also ideal for families who want to bathe children together.

Showerbaths

This style of bath is perfect for those short on space who still want the option of showering or bathing. Families can bathe their children, and still have the efficiency of showering for themselves, even in a cramped bathroom.

Freestanding baths

The epitome of luxury, these baths create a real statement of sophistication in your bathroom. They require considerable space, which is why they're less common in the UK, and they can be sorted into two types: vintage and modern. Vintage designs tend to be slipper shaped or roll top and often stand on claws whereas the modern type are thin-rimmed, double-ended and sit neatly on the floor.

Get the look:

So simply choose your material, pick your preferred type and then browse our huge range of styles and sizes to find your perfect bath from p124-133

Showering

Showering with ideas

With water jets and high-powered sprays now available for your bathroom, there's a huge number of ways to change the way you shower.

As we have a wide range of options available to choose from, we thought a quick guide would be a handy way to help you make your mind up.

Get the look:

Find our full range of showers from p164

i Which shower suits you?

Electric showers

Electric aren't a new design but they remain a popular one. Easy and inexpensive they fit anywhere in the bathroom where they can be connected to the water supply. As they heat the cold water themselves, they work independently of your home heating system.

Power showers

They may cost a little more than electric systems, but these amazing showers use an integrated pump that make them perfect for bathrooms with low water pressure. They can be quite cost-effective too, as they only heat the water being used.

Digital showers

These easy-to-fit showers give users the ability to control both temperature and flow, via a wireless panel, before even entering the shower. Once the shower has reached the settings you requested it will signal you to enter the shower without any worry of cold surprises!

Mixer showers

Mixer showers combine hot and cold water to make your ideal temperature. As they don't need bulky equipment and may use concealed valves, they're particularly popular in modern and minimalist bathrooms. A mixer shower works great over the bath.

>> Key features:

-  We have a wide range of guarantees covering all our products for your piece of mind.
-  Pressure can vary depending on a number of factors. We have a shower for every solution.
-  These are the recommended minimum pressures to achieve a good flow rate.
-  The most reliable way to ensure a constant water temperature providing precise control over the mix of hot and cold water.
-  These multi-function handsets have different option spraying functions available in one handset.
-  Eco settings make it possible to be environmentally responsible without radically altering your bathroom.
-  Reduces the risk of scalding and is constructed from high-quality material that is designed to last a lifetime.
-  Unique system features allow for flexible and simple install.
-  Shows the water temperature of the shower.
-  Controls water flow when occupant has stepped away from the shower.
-  Water Regulation Advisory Scheme.

i Helpful hint:

It's worth bearing in mind what type of showering experience you are trying to create. If you are installing a shower in a family bathroom, we would suggest choosing a shower riser rail. This enables you to alter the height of the shower head to suit each user.

Ship-shape showering

If you want to maximise space, add value and create a bathroom that runs like clockwork, consider adding a shower enclosure. They're also a perfect way to refresh guest bathrooms, ensuites and cloakrooms. With a wide range of shower cubicles to suit every shape, size and budget, we're a great place to start your search for a shower enclosure, shower tray or shower sets.

Here are some useful things to consider

How you use it...

- > How many people will use your shower?
- > How often will it be used?
- > Will it be used by anyone with limited mobility?
- > What time of day will it be used?

How you access it...

- > Where will your shower be positioned?
- > Will it be easily accessible?
- > Where will the shower doors open?
- > How will your enclosure fit into the bathroom space?

i Get to know your shower

Shower trays

Firstly consider the style of tray, there are four basic options: pentagonal, quadrant, square and rectangular.

Quadrant shaped trays sit nicely out of the way making them a practical, space-saving option. Quadrant trays have a rounded edge giving you a little extra room and their elegant curves can add a stylish look to your bathroom. Square or rectangular trays provide the most room. Larger rectangular trays are ideal for replacing a bath.

Shower enclosures

Before you pick your tray shape think about the doors you'd like. Think about how you want your shower to open. Smaller spaces might require a folding or sliding door, which, in turn, will help you choose your tray. Once you've decided, measure your bathroom and mark out the shower area. Make this space 'out-of-bounds' and get familiar with it.

i Helpful hint:

Once you're happy with your choices, start thinking about the glass, material and enclosure colour that best suits you and your bathroom.

Aqua4ma wetrooms

Installing a wetroom system can often be a time consuming and complicated process. However, with the Aqua4ma™ system you can achieve a stunning wetroom solution that is quick and easy to fit, guaranteed watertight and supported by a trusted British company.

The secret behind the system is the patented in-floor galvanized steel tray and the material used for the pre-formed base and cladding panels. The 18mm deep galvanized steel tray replaces a small area of floorboards or solid floor and supports both the waste and the pre-formed Aqua4ma™ base.

Made from waterproof extruded uPVC, which is both light and robust, the bases are available with a standard centrally located waste in a variety of sizes or a linear end waste version in 1185x900mm, both types can be trimmed or extended to suit most installation requirements.

Aqua4ma wetrooms

The Aqua4MA wall and floor panels can be cut to fit many different uses, including bath panels and shelves, without damaging the integrity of the system. Unlike most wetroom systems, the Aqua4MA system is tough enough that accessories can even be fitted by screwing directly into the panels.

Bar valves

Mixer showers draw from both hot and cold water supplies and usually deliver higher flow rates.

Ideal for homes with readily available hot water such as from a combi boiler or large capacity hot water cylinder, the hot and cold water is mixed within the unit and the water is delivered through the shower.

ERD bar valves

If you're looking for something a bit more designer, our minimalist exposed thermostatic shower valves allow you to switch between two outlets, for example, an overhead shower and a handset. This is known as an exposed valve, as the workings sit external to the wall.

A thermostatic shower valve controls how the hot and cold water supplies mix, and adjusts according to the heat of the water itself, helping to maintain a steady temperature.

Thermostatic concealed valves

For a more sleek and discreet style, you can choose a concealed valve.

All the workings sit behind a plate that is fitted flush to the wall, leaving just the control mechanisms exposed. A thermostatic shower valve controls how the hot and cold water supplies mix, and adjusts according to the heat of the water itself, helping to maintain a steady temperature

Electric

The electric shower is hugely popular because it is easy to install due to its multiple cable and water entry points so it's ideal for replacing an existing shower as there is little need to make new holes in the wall. They only require a mains cold water supply as the water is then heated quickly by passing over an element inside the unit.

Taps

Turn on to taps

It's natural to think first about the bigger elements of your bathroom, but little things like taps can make a big impact on your finished space.

There are lots of styles and designs to consider, so we've created this handy guide to help find the best taps for your bathroom.

Choosing the right taps

Water pressure

- › Some taps need a certain pressure to work properly. Save time and money by asking a plumber to confirm the pressure of your bathroom, to ensure you choose the right products.

Handles

- › If you're worried about hand strength, try an alternative to the traditional turning mechanisms. Modern lever style taps are easier to operate, and bring a contemporary look and touch of style.

Tap holes

- › Check the hole placements on the item you're fitting the taps to. It may help make your choices.

Neat ideas for taps

Basin and bath taps

Basin and bath are the most commonly used taps in the bathroom. There are many styles to choose from, each changing the look and functionality of your space.

Wall-mounted taps

Not attached to the basin and as such add a clean, modern, look to any bathroom.

Mixer taps

Mixer taps are more popular than ever, as they deliver your ideal temperature combination in just one flow. They require one tap hole basins and are a great solution for smaller spaces.

Pillar taps

A traditional design with separate hot and cold water taps. They work with two tap hole basins and are simple and easy to use.

Bath shower mixer taps

Efficient way to get the best of both worlds. Installing a shower above your bath is a great space-saver and even allows you to rinse the bath after use. For a traditional look, fit the showerhead on top of the mixer taps, or hang it on a wall bracket for more modern, hands-free showering.

Heating

Make it a space you love

Heating your bathroom requires careful consideration. It's one of the only rooms where you're often undressed and it's frequently damp and humid. The good news is that we have many types of heating to inspire your final choice.

Heated towel rails and decorative radiators

Towel rails and radiators are very similar, although towel rails give off slightly less heat as they are designed to warm towels, not whole rooms.

Towel rails are often polished or glossy, generally made from stainless steel or carbon and chrome plated, and add a sense of style to any bathroom.

Designer radiators are another stylish way to heat your bathroom. Just as sleek as a heated towel rail, they too add an element of luxury to any space.

Underfloor heating

If you like the idea of stepping onto a lovely warm floor, then electric underfloor heating is the perfect choice. It's another method that gently heats the room, saving space and saying goodbye to cold tiled floors. Underfloor heating is great for smaller and minimal design spaces, and with no exposed heat source, a safer option for families with young children.

Which should I choose?

- > Radiators give out extra heat which is perfect for a larger bathroom, whereas smaller spaces may only need a towel rail to keep things cosy.
- > Electric rails are a great way to heat your morning towel, without the need to fire up a full central heating system, perfect for summer.
- > If you use your bathroom in the evening, when your heating is already on, you might not need an additional towel rail.
- > As towel rails are generally slim and mounted on walls, they're great for adding heat to smaller spaces.

Ventilation

Take a fresh approach

Bathrooms are generally small spaces full of moisture and humidity and therefore need good ventilation.

The right ventilation creates fresh and healthy indoor environments, free from condensation, mould and damp. We have a wide range of products to help remove the 'fog' that collects on mirrors and walls. A simple bathroom fan can save you money in the long run keeping building materials such as woodwork safe from deterioration.

Helpful hint:

Always ensure that your bathroom fan has the capacity to cope with your size of bathroom.

Bathroom fans

We have a huge range of fans to choose from, so you can find the perfect one for your space. You may want to consider one of our shower fans. The Xpelair Illumi shower fan includes a light to provide ventilation and illumination at the same time.

If you're into your technology, you may want to look at our app-controlled fan. It's controlled via Bluetooth, and activated by light movement and shadow.

Heating and ventilation

All the solutions you'll need

Regardless of the type of bathroom you have decided upon don't forget to consider your heating and ventilation options. From ventilation products for your bathroom or shower, through to stylish radiators or underfloor heating, we have the solution for you.

Electric underfloor heating

Used either as a primary heating source for whole room heating or simply for floor warming to keep the chill off. Myson WarmUp have a range of underfloor heating systems designed for safely heating under tiles, wood, laminate, carpets and more.

The benefits of underfloor heating

Warmth and comfort

With its low operating temperature, electric underfloor heating delivers a comforting and even radiant heat across your whole floor surface, heating your home from the floor up. Simply program your thermostat around your lifestyle and you can relax knowing that your heating will automatically keep you warm, before you get cold. When using radiant underfloor heat as a primary heat source for your home, an added benefit is the elimination of cold tiles and floor surfaces forever.

Economic and simple

Electric underfloor heating systems deliver a rapid and uniform distribution of heat, which helps optimize your energy costs. Using one of our programmable thermostats, the temperature can be regulated with ease and precise control of your heating times also brings savings. WarmUp heating systems are ultra-thin, have flexible sizing and/or allow easy cutting and shaping for installation.

How it works

In most cases electric underfloor heating systems are installed on top of a sub-floor material and underneath your floor surface material. When running, the system emits a low level of even heat through the floor surface material and from there the heat radiates upward. In the case of in-screed heating, the system is installed at the same time as the concrete floor, directly in the screed.

The principle characteristic of underfloor heating is that it radiates heat evenly upwards from your floor. This in turn creates the perfect heat signature for a comfortably heated home. The even heat distribution rises up slowly warming extremities first and leaving higher parts of the room at a comfortable temperature.

Undertile heating

Recommended heating system for under tile and stone floors.

WarmUp's mat heating system makes heating regular and large spaces under tile and stone floors easy. Simply roll out the mat and have your electrician connect it to a thermostat.
